Serious Business Games | Successful Personnel Development in Internal Audit

Effective and practical learning of auditing methodology know-how

MARS is a unique learning experience! During the Serious Business Game, your know-how and skills will be trained in the following areas:

- Risk Assessment Know-how
- Operational Audit Techniques, e.g. Sampling or Process Audit
- Audit Quality Gates, Quality Assurance and Improvement
- Strategic Audit Development
- Control Design and Effectiveness of Controls
- Audit Engagement Management
- Audit Documentation and References
- Governance Processes
- Audit Interview Techniques
- Audit Report Writing

What is it about?

In 2030, the first humans reach the red planet. Become one of the first colonists, tasked with building a new civilization in which information and knowledge are the keys to survival. Mars combines a strategy game with a system of questions and answers. Here you can influence the development of the Serious Business Game and the acting players yourself with the numerous social community possibilities.

In order to build up your colony on Mars, you will answer audit competence questions, bring in your own internal audit topics or challenge other players individually or as a team with regard to your know-how in auditing!"

How does it work?

- ✓ You need an Internet-enabled end-user medium (laptop, tablet) with which you can log into the internet at Technopark.
- ✓ Absolutely neutral evaluation. The Serious Business Games algorithm independently awards the right points for all actions.
- ✓ As a participant you will receive 7 CPE, Continuous Professional Education Points according to the IIA standards.
- ✓ A team consists of at least 3 participants. The bigger the team, the higher the chance of winning with as many employees as possible in the top 20 in the Swiss Audit Championship Ranking.
